The Mueller hearings this week demonstrate clearly the America that will be left after Donald Trump vacates the office. There is no sense that Jerry Nadler or Adam Schiff give one iota about the truth and while that might not surprise anyone reading this newsletter, being prepared to respond to the America they will build should consume the greater share of your spare time in coming years.

What I have been doing and what I hope a great many people have been doing, without being prodded or coerced, is preparing to start taking a much larger role in current events. It is not enough to sit back and disapprove of the wholesale destruction of freedom, that's been tried and it has resulted in what we have today.

The liberals are counting on getting voting shares far ahead of the Republicans and reshaping America to fit their soviet desires, but they only intend to create a soviet America where Republicans or conservatives are concerned. When it comes to liberals and leftists, America will continue to be the wide-open political climate they have produced for the past several decades.

What they are not counting on is that Republicans and conservatives might not simply capitulate as they are expected to do. They might not take being voted out of society as calmly or as peacefully as they have up to this point. That is largely up to the reader.

Understand, when Donald Trump leaves office, no matter how that comes about, the idea, the intent, is to never allow another Republican into the Oval Office. The leftists, especially the hyperactive "Squad," are not interested in a competition to see who would be a good president or to test out some innovative ideas, they are pursuing the communist agenda with vigor.

My question is are you pursuing liberty or republicanism with the same vigor? Are you willing to accept some mediocre compromise with liberty? YES, you probably are and it is no longer acceptable. This is where everything has to change over the next eighteen months.

In my opinion, there is only one possible outcome to secure peace going beyond 2020 and that is the re-election of Donald Trump. Anything else and it is time to reacquaint our fellow soviet citizens with the understanding that simply gaining a majority does not allow for the revocation of civil rights. If we cannot get the Supreme Court to recognize our rights, we will have to secure them the old-fashioned way and that is to fight.

But, how do we fight, that is the question on everyone's mind. The most effective means of fighting against evil is to deny it peace, to deny it solace. The source of evil in America is in the cities, the concentration of common issues surrounding a solely urban viewpoint and all others are expected to pay their tab and alter their lives to satisfy the optics of the inner city.

I don't know what it takes to make a person set aside their recreation, their source of enjoyment in order to pick up a sign and start marching alongside others who have done the same. For liberals it is easy, they glorify the struggle and cast themselves as the heroes despite the fact that they are almost always the fascists, the bigots and the murderous dictators in history. But, they march and they achieve political victories.

There are all sorts of ways of demonstrating, it does not have to be with a sign and marching back and forth. The focus should be on the denial of service. Those within the ranks of traditional Americans (the workers) are the ones who truly understand what it means to deny service to communists. Communists within America cannot be allowed to benefit from the hard work and patriotic impulse of those who daily make the water and electricity flow.

This is very simple, one either abets the communists or is working to rid the nation of their presence. The time for taking halves is over, they won that round. What right do you have left, now that the dividing is done? None. They took it all without a word. They signed some legislation and suddenly you have no right to your property, your guns, your speech, nothing.

When I asked if you had a battle plan, this is what I meant. How will you resist the communists once they take over? It will cost you something to engage them. It may not have to cost you everything, but it will cost something. Are you ready to pay it? Are you ready to offer your life in the struggle to destroy communism, or is it acceptable? These are tough questions that you need to answer before you can proceed, because if liberty is a luxury, you will never pay its price. But, I mean to have it, or at least to destroy the communists
